FEMA URGES RESIDENTS TO LISTEN TO TEXAS AND LOUISIANA OFFICIALS

AS STATES BRACE FOR IMPACTS OF HURRICANE HARVEY

Landfall Expected on Middle Texas Coast Tonight or Early Saturday

August 25, 2017

FEMA, through its Regional Response Coordination Center (RRCC) in Denton, Texas, and the National Response Coordination Center (NRCC) in Washington, D.C. is monitoring Hurricane Harvey as it moves toward the Texas coast. FEMA's liaisons to the National Hurricane Center in Miami, Florida, are also actively monitoring the track of the storm.
