WASHINGTON – With 85 percent of the FEMA workforce in the field supporting 28 disasters nationwide, the agency continues to expand its recovery efforts.

FEMA is seeking applicants to join its Hurricane Recovery Team. The team is responsible for coordinating and delivering recovery resources to affected communities.

The National Business Emergency Operations Center (NBEOC) is the focal point for restoring the private sector’s critical infrastructure in the aftermath of a disaster. The NBEOC plays a critical role in coordinating and mobilizing the private sector’s response efforts.

FEMA is seeking applicants to join its Hurricane Recovery Team. The team is responsible for coordinating and delivering recovery resources to affected communities.

The National Business Emergency Operations Center (NBEOC) is the focal point for restoring the private sector’s critical infrastructure in the aftermath of a disaster. The NBEOC plays a critical role in coordinating and mobilizing the private sector’s response efforts.

To apply, please visit the FEMA website or contact FEMA-NRCC-NBEOC@fema.dhs.gov. Private Sector Advisory/FEMA is seeking Applicants to Join Hurricane Recovery Team.